The idea: a trend-led "Things you didn't know we print" list. The hook stops the scroll with curiosity, then six fast product reveals (2.4s each) show off the range beyond business cards using Printed.com's own product photography, colour-matched backgrounds and bold rounded type. It ends on the brand line "Let's make it real." Every word is on screen for muted viewing, and the layout keeps clear of the TikTok and Reels UI. The same look runs through a 3-slide carousel, so one shoot gives you a week of posts.

Emoji versions are in captions.md. Add a trending sound in-app when posting.

Hooks in the first second
A curiosity headline and a "Spoiler" pill land before the first swipe-away point.

Built for muted viewing
Every product name and line is on screen, and all text stays inside the TikTok and Reels safe zones.

Easy to repeat
One template becomes a series: "things you didn't know we print" can come back as stickers, wedding or Christmas editions.
